

That a Committee of Ten be appointed by the Chair, which shall be empowered to confer with parties, and such other persons as may be deemed desirable, for the purpose of securing the most favorable to the formation of a National party, on the basis of "the Union, the Constitution, and the independence of the people," and to report some plan for the formation of such a movement at a subsequent meeting, to be called by the Chair; and that the Chairman of this meeting shall be the Chairman of said Convention.

Resolved, That the Chairman of said Convention be authorized to call a meeting in accordance with this resolution, of which you already have information; and before adjournment, the powers of the meeting, by ballot, to elect a permanent Executive Committee, and a Union Executive Central Committee, with authority to incur, use its numbers and seal vacancies.

The organizing of this committee, held on the 23rd inst., a resolution was adopted to this effect:—That the chairman be empowered and requested, in conjunction with the chairman of the local Union Party, and Everett Committee, to call a National Union Convention for the nomination of candidates for the President and Vice-Presidency of the United States, to open the proceedings on the 10th inst. next, at New York City, or such place as he may deem best, and forth the reasons which render the Union party now, needs indicated by the majority of this Government.

A delegation from the National American Committee were present at this meeting, and fully concurred and agreed to support the action of the local Union Party, by meeting us, and at the same time received from the National Unity Committee, our fully considered programme for the new party, and approving it.

On the 26th instant the Committee again met, where reasons were discussed and agreed upon for rendering the formation of a National party many an others of the present national and conservative principles. There is reason to believe that such is the conviction of a great and patriotic portion of our fellow citizens, who are weary of the present administration, and of the existing organizations, who have been made sensible of the dangerous and disturbing consequences likely to result from the continued rule of the present Administration, and who see in the highest degree desirable to draw together into fraternal union and efficient political cooperation. In answer, therefore, to an appeal from the National American Committee, and in response to the invitation, it is submitted to your judgment and that of our patriotic fellow-citizens for approval, and that cooperation may be accordingly given and expressed in respect to:

The formation of Union State organizations, and of Union Clubs in wards of cities, and in town and election districts wherever there are voters of the Union Party, and in the organization, and a general and free correspondence with the National Union Executive Central Committee is earnestly invited.

By order of the Committee,
F. W. M. WALKER, Secretary.

—The Pennsylvania Republican Delegation, under the lead of Senator Cameron, waited upon Senator Seward on Thursday evening, and severally paid their respects to him.

—The Republican Club of Madison, Ind., has for years taken a copy of The Richmond Enquirer, with which to refute Democratic professions at home by reference to the columns of that paper. The thing worked very well in the last Presidential election, and now when the club had sent on the money for a new year, the editor was returned with the endorsement, "The Richmond Enquirer does not want subscribers in Indiana."

—The Seneca Falls charter election, held on Tuesday, resulted in the triumph of the entire Republican ticket. Dr. G. W. Davis, formerly of this city, was chosen President.

—The Ohio Senate Bill No. 1, entitled "A Bill to prevent the setting on foot of military expeditions in Ohio against the territory or people of any of these United States," has been indefinitely postponed by the vote of a Republican majority.

—A meeting of the delegates elected to the Charleston Convention, representing the Mozart Hall wing of the Democracy, was held at the Ador House last evening. A free interchange of sentiment took place, and it is understood that perfect unanimity of opinion exists as to the course to be pursued by their delegates from this State.

—The Washington Star, speaking of the monetary effects of the delay in the organization, says:

"The members of the House, nine-tenths of them, are so dependent for the wherewithal to pay their personal and family expenses, on the salaries they receive as members of Congress, as the clerks or any other class of employees of the Government. Without what the Government pays them, they would, as a class, as soon come to wait as any other Government employees outside. The law provides that they shall be paid out of the Treasury, and it is a fact that they are paid out of the Treasury. If they are not paid, they will starve. Members of the House, and those who shall have organized themselves, nevertheless, individuals among them have already been paid, or had advanced to them, by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the last Congress, an aggregate, probably, of hundreds of thousands of dollars, borrowed by that functionary, it is said, from the York County (Pa.) Bank, for the purpose of making Mr. McKim's salary cashed, and when it is recalled upon him, for some $2,000. As a matter of course, when they may organize, in paying such members as have placed themselves under such obligations to him, he will deduct his advances on made. It is presumed that the York County Bank charges him interest for the money advanced for the purpose, and that he charges no interest to the members. Therefore, what he pays as interest is neither more nor less than so much money paid by him, as in hand, to secure his re-election as Sergeant-at-Arms of the body, while, since the fashion of raising numerous Congressional Committees, and scouring the country far and wide for names, came in vogue, in undervalued terms, to become one of the most lucrative offices under the Government."

PERSONAL.

—The following singular marriage notice appeared in The Toronto Colonist:

"By the Rev. John Brown, Presbyterian minister, residing at the village of Newmarket, township of Whitehorse, C. W., at the residence of the bride's father, Benjamin Hewson, Toronto, Orange Brigade Drum-Major, in full soldier's regiments, with Orange sash, sword, &c., to Flora, eldest daughter of Mr. Archibald Stewart, of East Gwillimburgh, Ontario, and prime minister got through with the necessary ceremony by law established with a very appropriate lecture on the occasion, the bridegroom immediately afterward requested to add a few words on the subject, and after he had got the sanction of all invited as witnesses, drew his sword from the scabbard, and giving it into the bride's hand, said, 'My dear wife, I give thee this sword, and I charge thee, my dear wife, to plunge this naked sword in my own breast in case you find me unfaithful to the marriage tie now taken place between me and you (as unworthy of a moment's longer existence); henceforth you will have this sword poised at the head of your bed at your service.' All this present scene and very feelingly impressed on the hearing of his heartfelt remarks."

"Malakoff," the Paris correspondent of The New-York Times, in his last letter writes:

"Since the commencement of this Siberian campaign the lakes of the Bois de Boulogne have been the resort of an enormous number of idlers, who go there to sit and to enjoy the shooting. The Americans, the English, and the Russians have carried off all the honors in this beautiful exercise. The champions, however, thus far, each in his own style, are a Bulgarian and a Russian."

The Bulgarion is a young man of some twenty Winters, named Charles Clemon.

—The Hon. Thomas G. Clemson, a son-in-law of the great South Carolina statesman, is to be appointed Agriculturalist of the Patent-Office, in place of Mr. Brown, removed. So says the Washington correspondence of The Charleston Mercury.

—The Republican Young Men of Orleans County have taken in hand the work of organizing for the Presidential campaign. A meeting for this purpose was held at Albion on Tuesday evening. The step is one that ought to be followed in every county and town.

—The Hon. William F. Boone, Judge of the United States District Court of New Mexico, died at the residence of his family, West Philadelphia, on Wednesday. Mr. Boone had just returned from New-Mexico on a brief visit to his family, after an absence of two years. He served for many years in the Legislature of Pennsylvania, and under the Administration of Millard Fillmore was a Commissioner to Nicaragua. To the position he filled at the time of his death he was appointed by President Buchanan.

—Mr. Forney is described as a well-built, brown-haired man, a little over the average height, about 43 or 45 years of age, and with a large head and high forehead and self-resolve are the leading characteristics. His forehead is full and round—his beard of a russet-gray, slightly shaved above the mouth; and his dark, bead-like eyes are given a sleepless and ever-vigilant expression by the want of any eye-brow line to agitate of the forehead forehead from the forehead face. In this respect, he is said to recall the "lily-lake dragon-eyes" described in one of the earlier odes of Coleridge.

—Miss's equestrian statue of Washington will be inaugurated on the 23d of February, with imposing ceremonies. Mr. Everett will be invited to deliver the address.

Major Schooner, the Indian Agent, who has 27,000 Indians in his charge, is now at the Yellowstone in the real Missouri, and that it is navigable 900 miles above its confluence with the main stream. Stores might be landed within 400 miles of Salt Lake City by this route.
